CRSS TRAINING

Minutes:

Dr. Cathy Mincberg, President and CEO of Center for Reform of School Systems (CRSS), was unable to attend due to weather conditions in Texas. Becki Couch, Chairman, and Dr. Vitti, Superintendent, conducted the Board Development Meeting. Discussion included the following:

- All areas of Core Beliefs need the same way of measuring results for all proficiency areas and priority areas (except where data is not available):
 - Duval proficiency over five years.
 - Duval proficiency broken down by groups (ethnic groups, poverty, special education, English language learners and non-poverty) for Duval only for the latest year.
 - Duval as compared to the large seven districts in Florida.
- Areas of metrics:
 - Reading proficiency – possibly breakdown by elementary, middle and high school.
 - Math proficiency – possibly breakdown by elementary, middle and high school.
 - Science proficiency – 5th and 8th grades.
 - EOC's – Algebra, Geometry, Biology, US History, Civics.
- Priority Area 1 – Student Achievement Target Summary.
 - Targets are too low (need 3-4 % per year).
- Priority Area 2 – College/Career Readiness.
 - What does performance mean (add to legend)?
 - No comparisons with big Florida districts.
- Advanced Placement and Dual Credit seem to reflect a shift from Advanced Placement to Dual Enrollment.
 - Does this penalize any group of students?
